

Lexy Fridell

Class of 2000, Theatre (Musical Theatre)

Lexy Fridell hails from Glen Ellen, CA, where she grew up surrounded by grapes on her parent's vineyard. She grew up doing community theatre, but her parents were adamant that she not pursue a professional career as an actor until she graduated from college. She fell in love with Shakespeare at San Domencio High School, an all-girls Catholic School, then spent her senior high school year at Idyllwild Arts Academy in Southern California, which prepped her for her college auditions. She decided to attend the Acting/Musical Theatre program at Carnegie Mellon University and graduated with a B.F.A. and Honors in 2004. Her parents are proud to say that she is a professional actor. Lexy lives in NYC.
