The mission of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation is to promote and advance artistic and cultural development through education in a beautiful, natural environment conducive to positive personal growth.

The Idyllwild Arts Academy provides pre-professional training in the arts and a comprehensive college preparatory curriculum to a diverse student body of gifted young artists from all over the world.

The Idyllwild Arts Summer Program provides arts instruction and experiences of the highest caliber to a diverse student population of all ages and abilities.
ABOUT IDYLLWILD ARTS

Idyllwild Arts is located in the San Jacinto Mountains, high above Palm Springs and the Coachella Valley. It was founded in 1946 by Max and Bee Krone as a retreat from the rigors of urban life to support the cultural development of Southern California; a place where people of different backgrounds and cultures could celebrate their arts together.

Idyllwild Arts Foundation now operates two programs, the Summer Program – in its 59th year of providing more than 100 different classes in the arts for students of all ages and abilities, and the Academy – founded in 1986, is a fully accredited, independent, college preparatory high school for students with potential for a career in music, dance, theatre, visual arts, writing, moving pictures or interdisciplinary arts.

IDYLLWILD ARTS SUMMER PROGRAM

The tradition that began in the 1950s to bring the best artists in their field to teach under the pines continues today. Writer Norman Corwin, choreographer Bella Lewitzky, folk artist Pete Seeger, painter Francoise Gilot, Native American artist Fritz Scholder and photographer Ansel Adams are representative of the gifted artists who taught at Idyllwild Arts and set the standard for arts education in the Summer Program.

During an eight-week season, the Summer Program enrolls approximately 1800 students ages five to adult in more than 105 intensive, hands-on workshops (the majority two-weeks in length), taught by professional artist-teachers, in dance, music, theatre, visual art, creative writing, filmmaking and Native American arts.
The program for young people includes Children’s Center (ages 5-12), Junior Artist’s Center (ages 11-13) and Youth Arts Center (ages 13-18) offering courses designed to excite and engage young people, and to accommodate a broad range of skill levels and a wide variety of arts experiences.

Each year, Idyllwild Arts provides financial aid for economically and culturally disadvantaged young people allowing them the opportunity to engage in the making and performance of art – 50% of young people participating in an arts workshop are awarded financial aid totaling approximately $600,000.

The Theme Weeks, a relatively new addition to the program for adults, involves special theme-related workshops, seminars and performances featuring renowned artists, poets and musicians – Painting’s Edge, Native American Arts Festival, Metals Week, Hot Clay, Summer Poetry in Idyllwild, Chamber Music in Idyllwild and the Idyllwild Music Festival. The culmination of the Summer Program is celebrated in a major performance by the Festival Wind Ensemble, Festival Choir and Festival Orchestra, held at the Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles.

IDyllwild Arts Academy

The Academy is a fully accredited college preparatory boarding high school preparing talented arts students for the finest conservatories, professional companies, liberal arts colleges and universities. Students in grades 9-12 and post-graduate are admitted on the basis of audition or portfolio evaluation, academic record and past record as good school citizens. The Academy offers majors in creative writing, dance, interdisciplinary arts, moving pictures, music, theatre and visual art. Students study six mornings a week in academic classes and, in the afternoons and evenings attend arts classes and rehearsals, work in studios or practice.

Enrollment has grown to approximately 270 students (38% from California, 28% from other states, 34% international). Over fifty percent of Academy students are awarded some amount of financial aid totaling over $3.6 million annually.

Each year, graduating seniors are offered more than $4.5 million in merit scholarships. Graduates are sought by colleges, conservatories and universities, including: American Academy of Dramatic Arts, California Institute of the Arts, Carnegie Mellon University, Eastman School of Music, The Juilliard School, New York University Film School, Parsons School of Design, Rhode Island School of Design, School of the Art Institute of Chicago, School of Visual Arts, University of Southern California and Yale University.
Dear Friends,

Thank you for your generous support of Idyllwild Arts in 2007-08. I am aware that there are many worthy organizations that compete for your donations and am quite grateful that you have chosen to support IA.

As I think about why you would give to Idyllwild Arts in such a manner, I am reminded that there are four major characteristics of a truly successful non-profit enterprise.

First, it must have an important mission. Idyllwild Arts strives to improve the cultural development of Southern California by offering extraordinary experiences in arts education and educating the next generation of artists from all over the world.

Second, it must offer excellent programs to realize that mission. We offer both the Idyllwild Arts Academy and Idyllwild Arts Summer Program.

Third, it must have strong, stable leadership in both staff and board. Idyllwild Arts staff leadership is entering its 24th year and the board is made up of alumni, parents and arts philanthropists.

And fourth, we must be able to produce adequate resources necessary to accomplish these programs at the highest level. Idyllwild Arts operates in 2007-08 on a $15 million annual budget which includes more than $3.3 million in donations.

Your donations provide the resources necessary to underwrite the margin of excellence that makes Idyllwild Arts such an extraordinary institution.

- Idyllwild Arts awards significant financial aid to more than 50% of students in the Academy and over 40% of students in the Summer Program to provide access to our programs. Those who deserve the opportunity to enroll in our programs can find the support necessary to make that possible, no matter the family financial situation.

- Idyllwild Arts continues to increase salaries so that we can attract the most talented faculty and offer the finest arts education programs.

- Idyllwild Arts spends more than $2 million annually to maintain and improve our beautiful mountain campus.

So, thanks again. We pledge to you that we use your resources wisely and continue to make a positive difference in our world.

BOARD CHAIR REPORT

Bella Lewitzky, the legendary choreographer whose company was in summer residency in Idyllwild from 1954 to 1988, talked about Golden Circles. Golden Circles are those people or places that come around from time to time to touch, influence, inspire and inform throughout your life. Idyllwild Arts was a Golden Circle for Bella, is a Golden Circle for me and I know plays that same role for many, many others. This is why it is a special privilege for me to write for the first time as Chair of the Board of Trustees of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation.

As a response to the experience of World War II, Max & Bee Krone founded the Idyllwild Arts Foundation with the mission, no less, to promote world peace by influencing people’s lives through artistic expression. In 1968, the Summer of Love, I was a new high school graduate and a camp counselor, having come to Idyllwild originally as a scholarship student two years earlier. While I wasn’t focused expressly on world peace, I sang in the Festival Choir, took summer classes from Bella Lewitzky and made friends and colleagues, all of which collectively have come around to continue to inspire and influence my life.

Now, 40 years later, my son Tommy, a new high school graduate, is a ten-year alumnus of the Summer Program planning to attend art school in the fall. My daughter Anna, is an alumna of the Academy and sang under the baton of Grant Gershon (another Summer Program alumnus) in the Festival Choir the first year it appeared at Disney Hall. Whatever their ultimate life calling, their experiences will be influenced by the clarity of purpose, the focused effort as an individual or as a group and a sense of “joy in the making” that are all a part of the Idyllwild experience.

Now, as a part of the volunteer leadership of Idyllwild Arts Foundation, I am one of many who serve on the Board of Governors, the Board of Trustees, the many Board Committees and the Associates of Idyllwild Arts who embrace the mission to keep the programs at Idyllwild Arts thriving. With over 400 participating at all levels, the volunteers provide governance and fund raising and maintain a very, very personal connection to Idyllwild Arts and its mission. The many hours spent and the many gifts provided are often invisible. This is my opportunity to thank them for what they do and for what they allow Idyllwild Arts to continue to do.

For Mary Val Marsh Twist, working with Bee Krone was the inspiration that led to a lifelong passion for Music Education. Framed in her home are two treasures: One is Mary Val’s 2007 CMEA Hall of Fame Award Honoring Lifetime Achievement in Music Education, and the other her time-worn Choral Workshop group photo taken at ISOMATA in August of 1952. Both are benchmarks of Mary Val’s life’s journey in the musical arts.

“Bee could have inspired the rocks to sing,” said Mary Val when reminiscing about the daily “Morning Sings” up high in the pines.

The two first met when Mary Val was offered the position of Music Consultant for the San Bernardino County Schools. (For several years, she had been a general curriculum consultant, with no emphasis on music.) Together, for two weeks, they traveled the county as Bee presented music workshops for Elementary teachers. Through this mentorship, Mary Val realized the joys of teaching music and the technique of using simple descants to create beautiful counter melodies. Before the two weeks had ended, Mary Val knew that her career was destined to be in Music Education.

The excitement was palpable when Bee talked about the Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts. The Krones were gathering well-known leaders in visual arts, dance and music to present an integrated-arts summer program in a beautiful mountain community. Mary Val joined first as student and teacher and later as Assistant Choral Director, until 1961.

Her experience was a foundation for 25 years of teaching college music education courses, soprano solo performance, consulting and writing. During her career, Mary Val authored a professional book and two collections of choral arrangements and co-authored a K-8 textbook series and two collections of original songs for young children.

“Do you see what you started, Bee Krone and Idyllwild Arts?” says Mary Val. “I feel it is my privilege and responsibility to do all I can to keep the inspiration alive!” Mary Val’s designation of Idyllwild Arts as a beneficiary through an IRA Fund will help to ensure the future of choral music in the Summer Program.
Your generosity will echo down through the ages. Many friends of Idyllwild Arts have chosen to show their support through planned gifts such as:

- Bequests

- Making Idyllwild Arts the beneficiary of retirement plans or life insurance policies.

A planned gift may enable you to make a more significant gift than you thought possible, while at the same time allowing you to achieve your financial, philanthropic and estate planning goals. To that end, there are a myriad of easy giving options from which you can choose, from naming Idyllwild Arts as a beneficiary in your will to a more complex trust arrangement.

VICE PRESIDENT OF ADVANCEMENT REPORT

Krone House has been a gathering place for people on the Idyllwild Arts campus for many years. It served as a home for Bee Krone and then as the Headmaster’s residence for Bill and Carolyn Lowman and their son Nate ’97. In its current iteration, Krone House is home to the Advancement offices. If you visit, you would find eleven full-time staff, a part-time Associate clerk, numerous Associates and volunteers and even student workers all busy at their tasks in support of the Summer Program and the Academy. Advancement at Idyllwild Arts covers three areas: Marketing, Communication and Development (fundraising).

Marketing

In addition to numerous ads, articles and media work, the Marketing department established a presence in 2007-08 for Idyllwild Arts on the internet:

□ Alumni, students and prospective students can find Idyllwild Arts on Facebook, MySpace, hi5, Bebo and Friendster as well as other social network sites.

□ A video contest titled My Life In Art was held during the Academy and the winners and other entries were placed on YouTube.com.

□ Regular podcasts of performances at Idyllwild Arts were created and posted on-line for parents and friends to hear the students’ work.

Parent and Alumni Communication

As Director of Parent and Alumni Communication, Theresa McCaughey sends out:

□ An email newsletter every other month to the Summer Alumni and monthly to the Academy Alumni.

□ Periodic email newsletters to the Summer Poetry participants and friends.

□ CenterStage – an email newsletter for the Academy, reaches over 2000 people every week.

□ And, in the summer of 2008, Theresa has introduced an innovative way to stay in touch with summer program participants. She is posting thousands of wonderful pictures from the summer program on-line for download or purchase. To see what fun the summer is, go to:

In April, alumni reunions were held in Chicago and New York City. In May, alumni weekend was held on campus, celebrating the classes of 1988, 1993, 1998 and 2003. A new tradition began at Idyllwild Arts with the first Senior Luncheon at the end of May. Alumnus Topher Payne ’98 and faculty member Christie Hicks were the guest speakers and spoke to the graduating class about what it means to be an alumnus/a of Idyllwild Arts, as well as what to expect out in the ‘real world.’

Development

In 2008, more foundations, corporations and individuals recognized the excellence of Idyllwild Arts with donations. A new record was set for the number of donors to the organization. This increased support is a celebration of talented students, committed faculty and successful alumni.

Idyllwild Arts is about dreams. For over 50 years, we have been dedicated to nurturing and supporting artists as they pursue their dreams of a life in the arts. Thank you to all of you who help make those dreams come true.

ASSOCIATES REPORT

The Associates of Idyllwild Arts Foundation continued to provide needed support to Idyllwild Arts Foundation during 2007-08. In addition to maintaining its place as one of the top donors to the organization, the Associates provided volunteers, assisted with the students’ needs, provided outreach to the community and put in thousands of hours to produce the amazing Jazz in the Pines festival.

Led by dedicated officers, board members, chair people and school liaison, the membership to the Associates has grown to over 300. Idyllwild Arts is fortunate to have had the support of the Associates for the past 40 years.

The 2008 Life in Art award was presented to the Henry Mancini Family. They were honored for their commitment and dedicated support of the arts, arts organizations and art education. The Life in Art award was given to Ginny Mancini, Felice Mancini, Monica Mancini, Gregg Field and Chris Mancini by the legendary music producer, Phil Ramone.

The event was chaired by Barbara and Doug Frank, current Academy parents and board members, and featured a number of musical performances by noted musicians, including Dave Koz, Kelly Sweet (summer alumna) and Academy alumni Ellen Griffith ’06, Simeon (Mont) Simeonov ’00, Jose Soto ’03 and Wei Ping Chou ’99.

The auction was coordinated in a year-long endeavor by board member and parent, Cynthia Ward Kahla. Carolyn Lowman, past faculty and current board member, chaired the Tribute Journal. Their hard work and the steadfast leadership of the Franks produced a memorable and successful evening.

As I was growing up, my father used to keep me at the dinner table long after the meal was finished to lecture me about all manner of things. Sometimes it was about working hard, other times it was about being polite or getting along with others even when the going got rough. One night, we stayed at the table long after the plates were cleared while he explained the importance of keeping my fingernails clean. Afterward, we stood up and practiced the correct way to shake hands. What he was trying to tell me during those after-dinner chats was that everything mattered – that it all factored into the person he hoped I would eventually become.

At that young age, I didn’t see the method behind the lectures, only a man who cared deeply about working hard and doing the right thing. And so I listened and emulated him and made better choices based on those late-night lessons. What I never could have guessed was that all of his advice would propel me down a path of experiences that would bring me here, to Idyllwild Arts, where I get to enjoy being the director of one of the finest arts high schools in the world. In that sense, I am enjoying the realization of both my dream and his.

Over the last twelve months, I have met dozens of people who have talked about what an important role Idyllwild Arts played in helping them become who they are. Their experience with this institution impacted their lives in profound and lasting ways. The combined talent of this ever-changing collection of gifted and dedicated international students has provided me with no end of delight this past year. I have been inspired by the students and challenged by the teachers as together we take the next steps into a very exciting future.

Now, thanks to the hard work, leadership, vision, and generosity of all who have come here, Idyllwild Arts Academy is ready to make the transition from a young school to a sustainable mature institution. The foundation has been poured to support the arts and vision that bind us altogether. We are ready to stand up from the table together.

I am honored to have become part of Idyllwild Arts. Thank you for your support and dedication to our vision.

VICE PRESIDENT, DIRECTOR OF THE SUMMER PROGRAM REPORT

The Idyllwild Arts Summer Program is unique among other summer programs and festivals in existence today. The wide range of ages served, 5-95; the number and variety of courses offered, 108 different courses in dance, filmmaking, music, Native Arts, theatre, visual arts and writing; and the variety of public performances and presentations in Chamber Music, Contemporary Painting, Native American Arts, Poetry and the gala final performance at Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles combine to set apart the Summer Program from other summer arts programs.

The Summer Program combines intensity in teaching along with an incredibly rich array of artistic and cultural experiences. A great deal of expense and logistical support is necessary to re-create this program year after year. The resources required to bring to Idyllwild artists such as Pulitzer Prize winning poet Natasha Trethewey, contemporary painters like Matthew Ritchie and Dana Schutz and the Native American dance company, Dancing Earth, are significant, indeed, for a small non-profit school in the mountains. In addition, the Summer Program’s commitment to assisting deserving young students from disadvantaged backgrounds with sufficient financial aid to enable them to participate in the program is a challenge of daunting proportions. Nearly 300 such students attended the 2007 program.

Thank goodness for the hundreds of generous donors, individual and institutional, who support the activities of the Summer Program! Without their enlightened support, many of the wide-ranging and extraordinary activities offered each summer would be no more than an idealistic dreamer’s fantasy. The unstinting support provided by our loyal and committed donors enables the Summer Program to transform fantasy into life-changing reality for more than 1900 participants each summer. We are so very, very grateful! On behalf of the faculty and staff of the Summer Program, we offer a deeply heartfelt Thank You to all who support Idyllwild Arts.

Steven Fraider
Vice President, Director of the Summer Program
JOHN ALTIERI
1969 – 2008

John F. Altieri, 38, a versatile actor and singer known for his physical comedy and Chaplinesque flair, died of pneumonia in May 2008. He was forever young.

John had a successful regional theater career and appeared with San Diego Rep in David Mamet's Romances, Long Beach Opera's The Threepenny Opera, La Jo Ua Playhouse's The Love of Three Oranges, San Jose Rep's The Two Gentlemen of Verona and A Flea in Her Ear and Santa Barbara CLO’s 1776. He was also a teacher and director for Idyllwild Arts Summer Program in California and Shakespeare on the Green in Lake Forest, Ill., and with UCLA's graduate and undergraduate acting programs.

He had recently left the First National Tour of Jersey Boys, directed by Des McAnuff, playing the role of Bob Crewe and was asked to join the Las Vegas company for an extended run. He was an audience favorite and loved by all in his company.

John is survived by his parents, Charles and Eileen Altieri of Brockton; his brother, Charles of Hyannis; his sister, Mary Nardone and her husband John of Connecticut; and their four sons; and John's network of friends that stretches from coast to coast.

John took over the musical theatre program in the Children's Center in 1992 and turned it into one of the most popular summer courses we offer. He, along with Johanna McKay, created and developed the Children's Center Theatre of Myth & Magic. John set a standard of performing excellence that the students all live up to. John, Johanna and David Bauman were all involved in bringing new life to the Children's Center theatre programs and making them first-rate learning experiences for children. John taught in Children's Center from 1992 – 2005.

In memory of John, donations may be made to the John Altieri Scholarship Fund at Idyllwild Arts.
TREVOR GRIFF
1986 – 2008

Trevor Grimm '05 died September 8, 2007 at his home following a sudden illness.
Trevor, an Interdisciplinary Arts major, was an incredibly talented young artist. Trevor will forever be remembered as the passionate artist he was. The Interdisciplinary Arts department and the rest of Idyllwild Arts is deeply pained by the loss of Trevor.
Our love and warm wishes go to Trevor’s family and brother Jase Grimm '06.

GRAYSON COLLYMORE
1987 – 2008

Grayson Collymore '05, passed away February 8, 2008. As a dance major, Grayson impressed us all with his ability and gracefulness. An outgoing & loving personality made Grayson unforgettable.
The Dance department and Idyllwild Arts is deeply saddened by the loss of Grayson and our hearts go out to his family and friends.

JEANNE ROBERTS
1926 – 2008

Jeanne Roberts, 83, died in her home in Milwaukie, Oregon on Friday, February 15, 2008. Jeanne was the head of housekeeping at Idyllwild Arts for many years who retired in the early years after the Academy was founded. She was a long time employee of USC-ISOMATA and ISOMATA and a fine person. After Idyllwild Arts, Jeanne lived in Hemet and worked at the Cloverleaf Convalescent Home and then moved to Milwaukie, Oregon to be with her grandchildren.
She is survived by her daughter, Carol TenBarge; her grandchildren, Chris Davis, Anthony TenBarge, Jennifer TenBarge and William TenBarge; and her sister, Joan Olsen.
VIRGINIA “GINNY” GARNER
1914 – 2007

Virginia Garner, pioneering documentary photographer, teacher and administrator at Idyllwild Arts, passed away in September of 2007. She was 93 years old.

Born in Brooklyn, NY, “Ginny”, as she was known by everyone, grew up to live a life of adventure that most only dream about. Following her marriage to documentary filmmaker Ray Garner in 1938, the couple made films in many locations around the world, including Africa, Greece, and the Near East. In Mexico, the Garners filmed a documentary about the archeological dig at Casas Grandes, where Mrs. Garner served as the expedition’s official photographer. Ginny also assisted her husband in the making of documentaries for NBC television on subjects that included Vincent Van Gogh, U.S. Highway One, the Rio Grande and northern California’s Muir Woods. An active mountaineer, she was featured in Ray’s film The Mountain about climbing in the Grand Tetons.

Among their many other adventures were early explorations of Canyon Lands Park in Utah, where they discovered and named Castle Arch. Virginia Park, which Ray named for his wife, can be found current maps of Canyon Lands Park.

Drawn to Idyllwild by Max Krone’s Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts, the Garners moved to the Hill in 1966, building a house on Doubleview Drive they called Xanadu.

Continuing their filmmaking careers at the school, the Garners accompanied the ISOMATA Festival Orchestra to Scandinavia in 1965 and made a feature film about the musical tour titled Touches of Sweet Harmony. A 1967 film, Joy in the Making, documented the Summer Program.

Commenting on their film work for the school, Steve Fraider, current director of the Summer Program and a camp counselor in those early years, said, “The films that Ginny and Ray made were the first attempt by Idyllwild Arts to spread the word about the school and to market itself. The films were unstintingly positive. Ginny and Ray wanted the whole world to know about ISOMATA.”

Jinny was a photography teacher during the summer and later launched the Elderhostel Program on the campus. Referring to the period during which she administered the Conference Center at ISOMATA, a time which saw a high turnover in directors, Dwight “Buzz” Holmes said, “It was an unsteady time and Ginny was the glue that held the campus together.”

Bill Lowman, President of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation was a student in the ISOMATA Festival Choir in 1965 when he first met Ginny Garner. “She was a seminal figure,” remembers Lowman, “and influenced the lives of hundreds of thousands of people. I will always remember her as one of the giants in the history of Idyllwild Arts.”

Ginny was a founding member of the Associates of Idyllwild Arts, and was awarded an Honorary Life Membership in that organization in 2005. In recognition of her many contributions to the school, she was made Trustee Emeritus of the Board of Governors and Trustees of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation.
