ACADEMICS
Our academic departments teach creative, multi-dimensional thinking and the vital twenty-first century skills of communication, collaboration, and critical problem-solving. All academic departments offer Honors courses permitting students to go deeper into their pre-professional subjects, and take ownership of their education by moving beyond the standard curriculum. Our arts students learn how to apply their creativity in areas that seem unconnected to the arts, and our alums include a vascular surgeon with offices in four California cities, an award-winning environmental scientist-activist, a prolific inventor, and a Silicon Valley high-tech executive.

ART IN SOCIETY
Waste no time in tackling local and global problems by taking part in our Art in Society program. Art in Society works with teachers to include examination of key social issues in their courses, along with opportunities to address those issues in creative, cross-disciplinary ways that appeal to both the head and the heart. Complete a prescribed number of qualifying courses to graduate with a Distinction in Global Arts, Action, and Social Entrepreneurship.

ARTS ENTERPRISE LABORATORY
The Arts Enterprise Laboratory at Idyllwild Arts Academy is the only high school program of its kind in the entire United States. Students develop a proposal for substantial monetary grants that considers all aspects of the implementation process, including concept, design, scheduling, budgeting, and marketing. The process of applying for and making use of an AEL grant equips students with skills that are invaluable for both higher education and the professional world.
