

Hot Clay Week III – The Poetics of Glaze Chemistry

Dear HOT CLAY Participant,

We have planned a stimulating week for you with a full-immersion schedule of art making, lectures, and events.

Please note the following schedule details:

- Workshop begins on Sunday at 9:00 am and runs daily from 9:00 am to 4:00 pm, Sunday-Friday, with evenings open for studio time, lectures and events. Final kilns will be unloaded Saturday morning by noon.
- Gallery Opening and Reception takes place on Monday evening at 8:00 pm in Parks Exhibition Center, featuring work by Hot Clay and all Adult Arts Center faculty.
- Other lectures, demos and events are planned during the week, including presentations by our visual art, Native American festival and music faculty.

Be sure to carefully review the tools and supplies list for your workshop and to bring all required items. Clay, glazes and shared materials will be provided.

General information: Ceramics studios are open 8:30am – 11:30pm or so. Participants are encouraged to work outside of class time, keeping in mind your need for rest and water. NO FOOD IS ALLOWED IN THE STUDIOS. Closed-toe shoes are required in the studios at all times. We will do our best to fire all work, within reason.
